Dear Students,

Why do we study and practice art? Such questions arise from the common perception that art is an "innate talent." However, just like any other field of humanities, the study of art also demands our attention and intellect.

This textbook, which focuses on areas like visual art, sculpture, music, dance, drama, and cinema, goes beyond mere knowledge acquisition in these subjects. It aims to encourage creative activities related to these art forms. Beyond the conventional method of practicing any art form with a competitive mindset, this textbook aspires to revitalize the educational process creatively by fostering a deep understanding of all art forms.

Through this book, we delve into various timeless aspects of visual arts, cinema, dance, music, theater, and more. In that sense, it serves as an entry way to an expansive creative world. Explore, discover, sing, act and immerse yourselves in joy. We eagerly look forward to your feedback and suggestions.

With warm regards,

Sthayi and Tempo

Do you know which musical instrument the children watch in the picture? This is a piano. A keyboard is another musical instrument similar to a piano. Each of its black and white keys makes a different sound when touched. Sthayi is a group of seven notes/swaras- sa, ri, ga, ma, pa, da, ni- in sequence. Various sthayis can be seen on the keyboard. The 'Octave' in Western music is similar to the 'Sthayi' in Carnatic music.

The ups and downs of the voice

1. Top Voice (Higher Level)
2. Normal Voice (Medium Level)
3. Base Voice (Lower Level)

Let's Tell

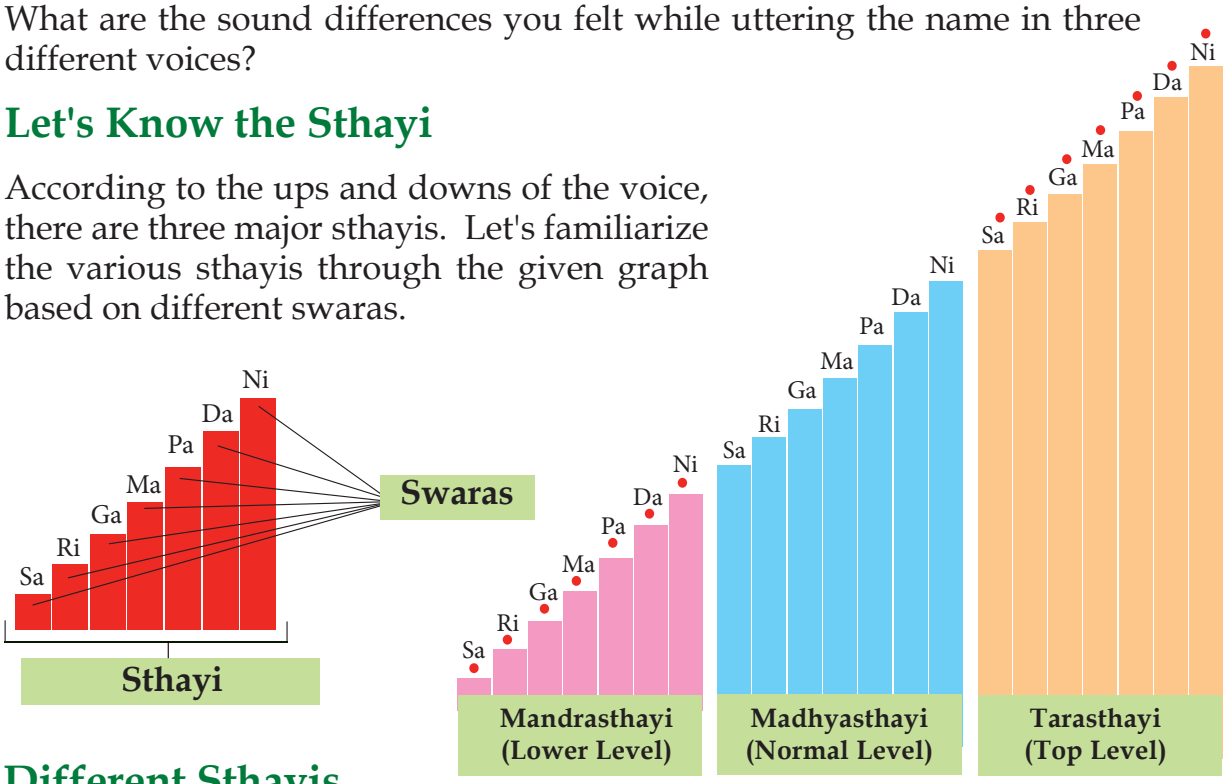
Tell your name in three different voices.

1. Normal voice
2. Lower than normal voice
3. Higher than normal voice

What are the sound differences you felt while uttering the name in three different voices?

Let's Know the Sthayi

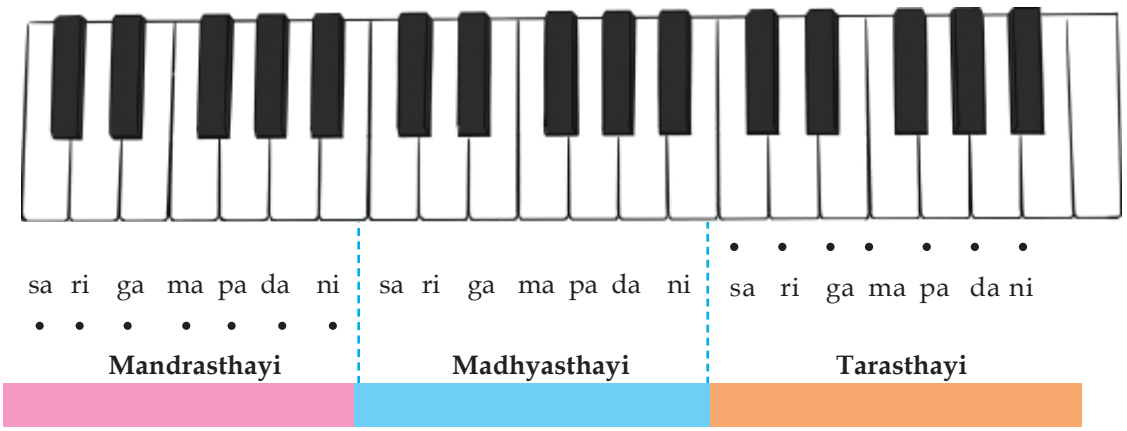
According to the ups and downs of the voice, there are three major sthayis. Let's familiarize the various sthayis through the given graph based on different swaras.



Different Sthayis

Let's familiarise three sthayis through the keyboard

Open file 1.1 in school resource folder



Draw a keyboard seen in the image on your notebook and give different colours (Pink, blue and orange) to the three sthayis.

Mark the sthayis

Mantrasthayi	sa ri ga ma pa dha ni • • • • • • •	Dots are marked under the notes/swaras
Madhyasthayi	sa ri ga ma pa dha ni	Dots not marked
Tarasthayi	• • • • • • • sa ri ga ma pa dha ni	Dots are marked above the notes

Though a song goes through sancharas various sthayis, most of the sancharas will be in madhyasthayi.

Let's Sing...

Listen to the audio of the songs given below, identify the sthayis, and sing them in groups.

1. Malamele thirivechu periyarin thanalath...
2. Thumbee vaa thumbakkudathin...
3. Neela nilave ninavin azhake...
4. Kannamthumbee poramo...

Open file 1.2 in school resource folder

Note down the singing experience on your notebook.

1. Did voice change occur while singing?
2. Did the sound goes high and low while singing?
3. Which part of the lines was sung high?
4. Which part of the lines was sung low?
5. Could you identify the various sthayis while singing?

Let's familiarise the Tempo

In music tempo refers to speed. The speed in singing and the speed of the song are different. The speed in classical singing is in four tempos, namely one, two, three and four. While composing a song, the speed of the song is indicated as slow tempo (Vilambakaala), medium tempo (Madhyamakaala) and fast tempo (Drutakaala).

Slow Tempo (Vilambakaala)

It is sung at a slow pace.

Medium Tempo (Madhyamakaala)

It is sung at a medium pace.

Fast Tempo (Drutakaala)

It is sung at a fast pace.

Let's Find out and Sing

Let's familiarise with film songs of various tempos.

Form three groups and sing the songs given in the below table, which come under all the three tempos.

Slow Tempo	Medium Tempo	Fast Tempo
1. Mazha kondu maathram mulaykunna vithukal…	1. Jeevamshamay…	1. Chandana mani sandhyakalude..
2. Pazham thamizh pattizhayum sruthiyil…	2. Maanikya malaraya…	2. Oru madhurakkinavin..
3. Maranamethunna nerath…	3. Thannannam thaanannam thalathilaadi…	3. Shooram padayude chempada kotti..
4.	4.	4. .....
5.	5.	5. .....

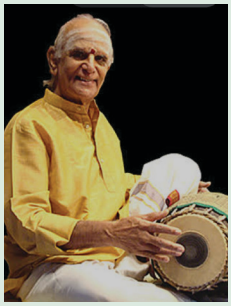
Shadkala Govinda Marar (1798-1843)

Shadkala Govinda Marar was a Carnatic musician who lived in the 19th century. He was one of the principal musicals maestroes in Swati Tirunal's royal court. It is mentioned in the music texts that Shadkala Govinda Marar had the ability to sing in six tempos (kaalas). Shadkala Govinda Marar Smaraka Kala Samiti is functioning in Ramamangalam, Ernakulam to keep his memory alive.



Dr Umayalpuram K Sivaraman

He is a famous Mridangam artist from Thanjavur, Tamil Nadu. Madras Music Academy honored him with the Sangita Kalanidhi Award in 2001. He won the Sangeet Natak Academy Award in 1992. The country honored him with Padmashree in 1988, Padma Bhushan in 2003 and Padma Vibhushan in 2010.

Morsing (Mukhar Shankh)

Morsing (Mukhar Shankh) is an instrument used as an accompaniment in Carnatic concerts and percussion ensembles. Mukhar Shankh is known as a sub-accompaniment in music concerts. This instrument is made of steel. It is played by holding the ring-like part in the left palm and the long tip-like part with the lips and touching the point finger on the middle wire called 'reed' or 'Naakku'

The Eye That Sees and the World That is Seen

How will the sight be, when we look from the top of a tree or a building...? Isn't the scenery different when we look at the valley from the top of a hill...? Likewise, the view of the hill top from the valley will all so the different. The spatial features, elevations and depths make differences in our sights and views. Note down the sights in daily life, like these.

View	Effect of the Sight
Pillars in the school veranda	Distant pillars are seen small
Outer view through the window

Observe and Draw

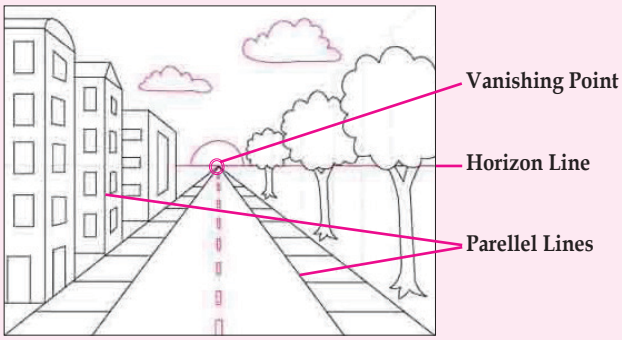
Observe the school premises and based on the observations draw the picture of the school building, plants in the school premises, trees, garden and biodiversity park, and colour it. Present the pictures in class and share the drawing experience.

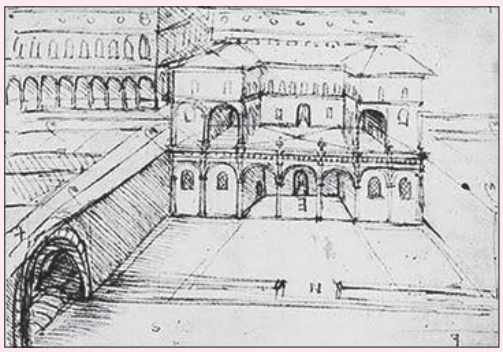
Perspective

Perspective is the technique used to create the impact of distance, depth and height on a plane space. As per the specialties of our vision, distant objects are seen small and vague, while nearby objects are seen big. There are European styles of perspectives like Linear Perspective, Atmospheric Perspective etc. Indian styles like Mughal Perspective, Perspective in Kerala Mural Paintings and Perspective in the Folk Painting style. There are different type of Perspective using in visual art.

Linear Perspective

Linear Perspective is the technique used to create the impression of depth and space using the relative size and position of a group of objects. Linear perspective is used to create the real-life impression using lines, based on the peculiarities of our vision. When parallel lines are seen up to a distance they seem to join at a point (vanishing point). This technique related to vision is called Linear Perspective. This include horizon line, which is the point where sky and earth loin. In order to create a painting or drawing using this technique, three factors are needed, namely, parallel lines, vanishing point and horizon line..





Leonardo Da Vinci's drawing

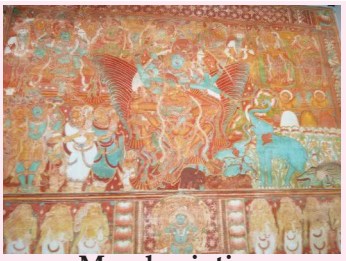
Atmospheric Perspective

Atmospheric perspective is a technique that uses colour, value, contrast, and texture to depict nearby objects with colour, clarity, and detail, and present the distant ones faded and with less details, thereby creating an impression of distance and depth.

The Hay Wain
John Constable

Perspective in Kerala Mural Paintings

Images of humans, creatures, nature and constructions are drawn on the same canvas, as multi-angle views in Kerala mural painting, perspective. The important scene or characters are depicted as large and others as small and one after the other.



Mural painting 'Gajendramoksham'

Mughal Painting

- Scenes from different perspectives are painted in the same picture.
- The main character is drawn large and the others relatively small.

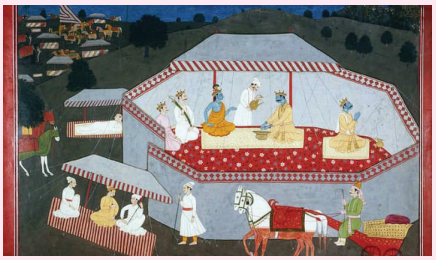
Gond Painting

- Trees, animals and human figures are depicted with equal importance.
- Near, far etc. are not expressed in the picture.

Pithora painting

- Horses, elephants, human figures, objects etc. are depicted in many rows.
- Elements and motifs are depicted in different sizes in the same row.

Pahari Painting



- Interior- exterior views are narrated in the same scene.
- Includes distant scenes also.

Observe the pictures and information given above, understand the styles of perspective, and discuss it.

Open file 1.5 from school resource folder.

Let's Draw...

Realizing that there are some techniques to express views through pictures, Lumi thought about his travel experiences to school. Going down and uphill roads, grassy plants, farmlands, fast growing bushes, birds and animals roaming around, ripples in the water, colorful flowers and so on, Lumi started to paint by travelling through his memories and adding imagination. Shall we draw the experiences of travelling to school with Lumi...? We can display the pictures and share the drawing experience with our friends.

Pieter Bruegel the Elder (1525-1569)

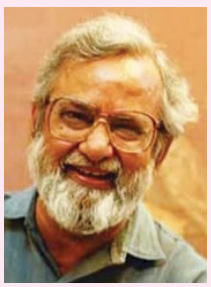
Pieter Bruegel was a famous Flemish painter of the 16th century. His depictions of landscapes and peasant life are famous. Bruegel's paintings of ordinary people engaged in everyday life were very influential to the Dutch Golden Age.

The Hunters In the Snow

Basavan

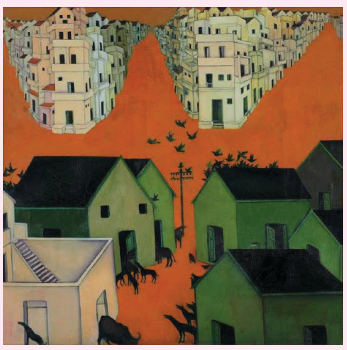
Basavan was the chief of Akbar's court painters. He played an important role in the development of the Mughal miniature style and the fusion of European styles with the Mughal style. He also played a major role in texts like Tootinama, Rasmnama, Timornama, Akbarnama and Baharestan.

Eamaciated Horse and groom - (Mughal Period)



Ghulam Muhammad Shaikh

Ghulam Mohammad Sheikh has been a prominent figure in the Indian art world for more than four decades. Renowned as a painter, writer and teacher, he has participated in major exhibitions around the world. He has won many awards like Padma Bhushan, National Award, Kalidas Samman and Sahitya Akademi Award.



Speechless City

Tune and Talk

Aren't you all familiar with the words given below? Shall we say these words…

- Long ago...
- Once, there was...
- Kuttappu.. Kunjappu.. Kunjechi...
- Puttum Kadalem.. Pappadamupperi...
- Kocheelu kachakku poyappo...
- Not you... not me... one... we are one...

Open file 1.6 from school resource folder

Now, shall we say these words in a different style? Shall we say it in different emotions such as reducing sound as if telling a secret, with anger, with happiness... We shall present it in various groups. Give a name for each group. Shall we introduce the group and members like a rap music presentation? Now, shall we sing the same things in a different rhythm?

It would be interesting if you say things like the ones given below, accompanying the song.

- Favourite food
- Favourite subject
- Favourite place

Aren't the presentations over?

Was there more singing or speaking in the presentation...?

What can be done to improve singing and speaking?

Let's say and sing

Padapadam Pappadam
(Plot Summary)

Shuraneli is a rat, who lives in the ceiling of a palace. He is very lazy to search for, and store food like others. Other rats avoid him because of his begging for food. Shuraneli tries to be the king among the rats, trying somehow to make a living without working. He sews a hat for it, and begins to rule as the hatted king on the ceiling. Now he has food and manpower.

Meanwhile, the palace guard who was frying the pappadam below, caught the attention of Shuran. Craving heavily for pappadam, Shuran sent a messenger to get one. But the man did not give any pappadam. Enraged, Shuran declared war against the palace guard. The rat army has started. The palace guard faced the war with a drawing play. He drew a big cat and frightened the rats. Shuraneli died of a broken heart. The bravery of the lazy Shuran has crumbled like a pappadam.

Alinthara G Krishnapillai

Look how the above drama summary transformed into speech and song. Let the speech and song be in a rhythm.

There were some rats on the ceiling of a palace. Among them, there was a lazy rat. Do you know his name?

Kottaramachile sooraneli
Sooranerivoru seelamini
Madi madi madiyan sooran
Elikalilivan sooper viruthan
Pala pala adavukaloppam
Muthalkoottayi koottiya vendran

This Shuraneli, who is lazy to search for, and store food, has a desire to become the king of rats. It is because the other rats avoided him. Then, one day…

Sing and Speak

Shall we form various groups? create narrations and lyrics for a presentation using the below given subjects. The group members should prepare the rhythm and tune the lyrics as rap for presentation.

- Love
- Friendship
- Co-operation
- Gender justice
- Equality

Story Telling

It is the presentation of a story, using words, pictures, sounds, properties etc, utilising the possibilities of acting.

(Sangeetha Natakangal)

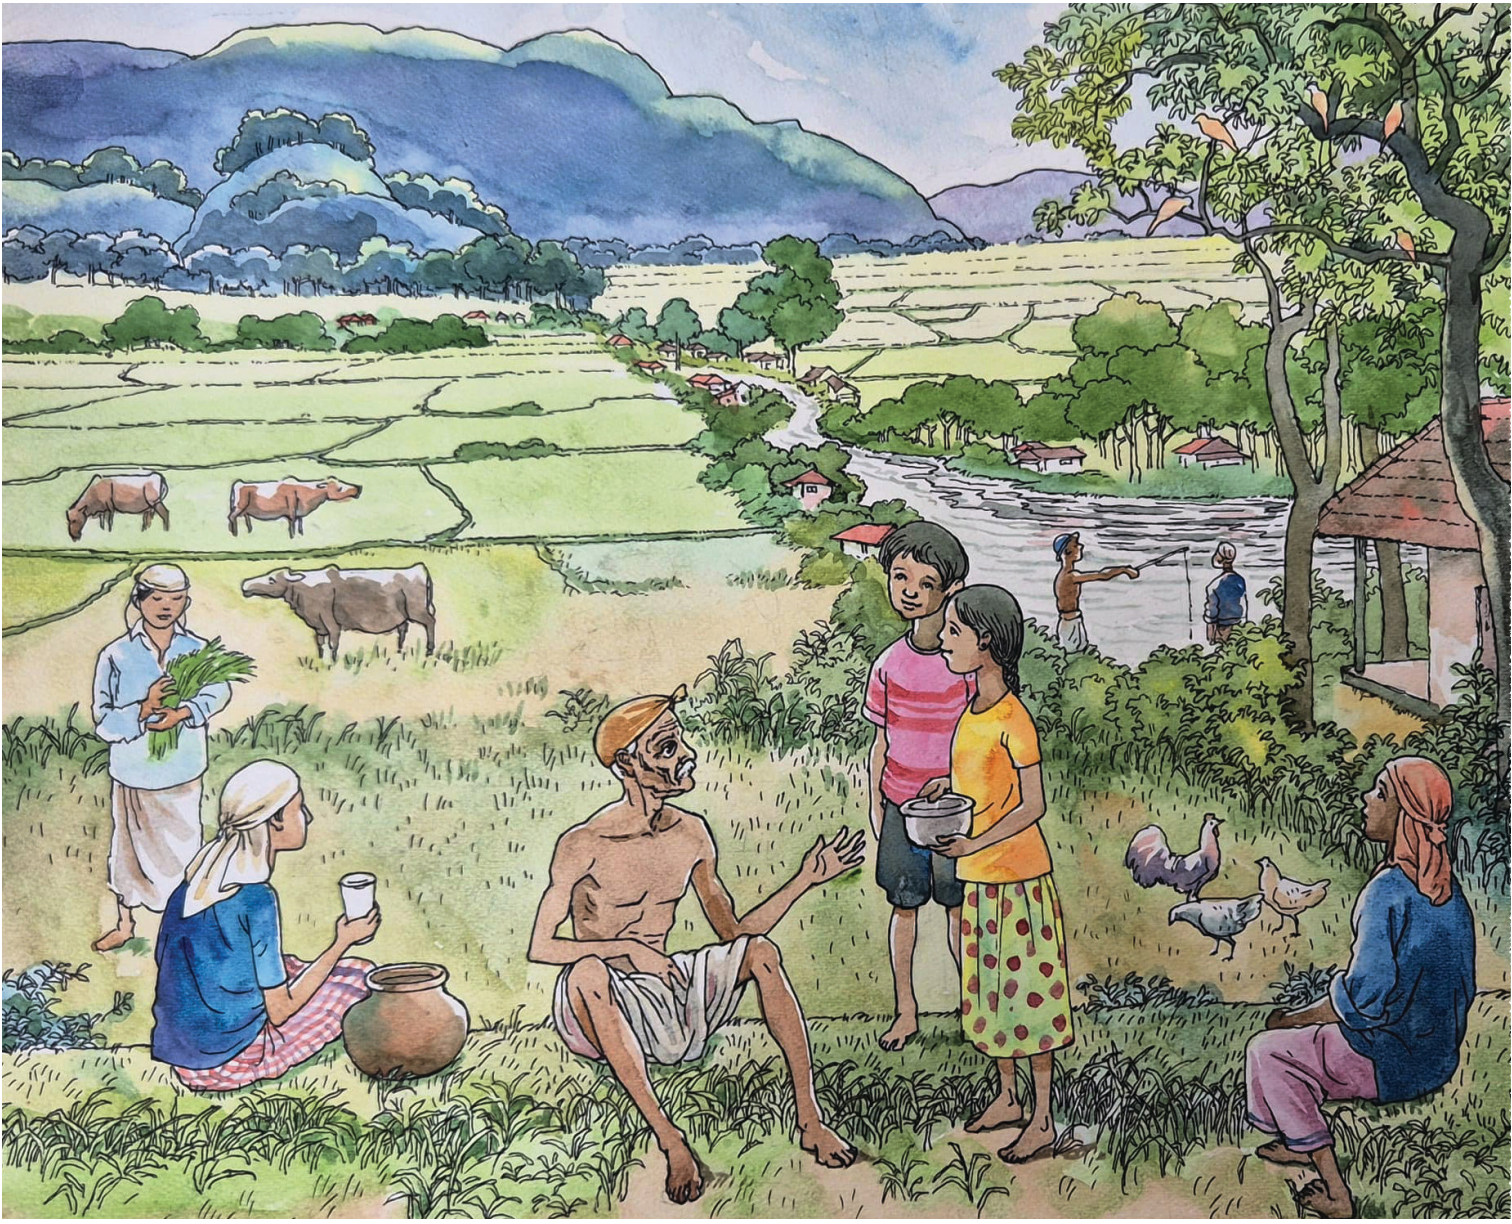
Sangeetha Nadakas which were popular in Tamil Nadu became popular in Kerala also by the end of the 19th century. Tamil Sangeetha Natakas were fascinated by Parsi dramas which were staged under the influence of western dramas. This type of drama has got many appreciators in Kerala. Tamil stories were written in Malayalam script, and independent Malayalam musicals productions of the same manner were staged. 'Sangeetha Nyshadham' written by T.C. Achuthamenon is regarded as the first Malayalam Sangeetha nadakam 'Sadarma' written by K.C. Kesavapilla. 'Vasavadatha' written by Swami Brahma Vrthan. etc are the important Sangeetha Nadakam in Malayalam. A bhagavathar who sings while playing Harmonium and the baffoon who cracks jokes during the time of drama presentation form important parts in a Sangeetha Nadakam. Later after the arrival of social dramas, Nritha Sangeetha Natakas were formed with simple music. Dance apropriate to situation and real acting.

Rules and Regulations Regarding Child Artists

Child artist laws are formed in order to ensure the physical and mental balance of children working in the field of art, to protect their rights and to prevent exploitations against them.

Various rules and Regulations

- The Child and Adolescent Labor (Vision and Regulation) Act, 1986 (Amendment 2016)
- Juvenile Justice (Care and Protection) Act, 2015
- Right to Education Act, 2009
- Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Code of Ethics) Rules, 2021
- National Commission for Child Rights- Guidelines issued in 2003



Make a Visual Narrative

Shall we write a film story after observing this picture? Form groups and discuss what all are seen in the picture. Find and write the story's back ground and characters.

Background of the Story

- Beautiful mountainside

Characters

- The old farmer
- Cattles

Write down the characterisation

- Old farmer, 80 years old, arecanut sheath-cap on head, wearing a thorth
- Cattles of various colours

Organise a story based on those indicators in the picture.

Eg: A beautiful mountainside. A small stream flowing. Small houses in one side. The elder of the village is a very old man. His brown-coloured hat was very attractive. For them, the harvesting time is a season of celebration.

After watching the picture, write a story as per your imagination.

One Line

One line is a very brief description of the cinema, including the main idea, setting, characters, and the nature.

Screenplay

Screenplay is the description of the story prepared for the shooting of the film. It includes the background of the story, properties, time in which the story happens, characters, their dialogues and the costumes.

Open file 1.8 in school resource folder

The Basic Structure of the Screenplay

1. Beginning: Prepare a beginning for the story in such a way to attract the audience.
2. Development of the Story: Develop the story through the characters and incidents.
3. Ending: The story should have an ending in accordance with its movement.

Let's write a screenplay

Scene 1 Exterior/Day time. Field in the mountainside.
The elder of the villege and others are working on the field.

Costume/Property
hat made of spathe, glass, vessels, thorth mund, banyan, skirt, trouser, thorths with different colours.

Elder : "Children are coming. We shall continue after food".

Sobha : "Why are you late, dears"?

Peelu : "Mother, we went to play".

This is just a model. Screenplay is written in many other ways.

Develop your story, incorporating characters and dialogues.

Flash Mob

We face various issues in our society. How do we respond to these issues?

- Brings to the notice of the authorities
- Seeks the legal advice of experts
- .....
- .....
- .....

It is important to give awareness to society in these times. We can make the language of response creative Art is a unique way to respond. Humans have always responded to the injustices in society through art.

Have you heard of flash mob? Flash mob is a dance form used for creative and innovative response. Prepare and perform a flash mob as part of environment day celebration, with the help of the indicators given below.

Flash Mob

Flash mobs are dance performances that are performed suddenly to attract the attention of people to some kind of program or awareness program and to make them viewers of that program. Catchy music, body movements and dance moves are the hallmarks of Flash Mob. A crowd suddenly appears dancing in public places and disperses after a short performance. The art form, known as the Flash Mob, was first organized by Bilwa Sak, a senior editor at Harper's Magazine, on June 3, 2003, in Manhattan, New York. Flash Mob was first performed as a humorous criticism of conservative people who did not accept change.

It was presented as a social experiment reflecting the youth's perspective. Although the dancers prepair in advance it presents an accidental visual experience for the audience.

Open file 1.9 in school resource folder

Let's identify the things to remember while preparing for a flash mob.

- Select a song suitable for the idea
- Plan the steps suitable for the song
- Make sure about the necessary practice for the performance
- Choose a suitable space for the performance
- Arrange necessary sound system
- Use suitable make up and costume
- Arrange necessary properties (banner, placard etc)
- Plan an unexpected performance
- Properly document the presentation

Let's Discuss

Conduct a discussion on your flash mob performance, based on the questions given below.

1. Was the selected place apt for the performance?
2. Could you convey the idea properly to the audience?
3. What was the response of the audience?
4. What are the areas to concentrate on, for making the performance better?

Present a flash mob in the school or public places with necessary preparations by understanding the current issues in the society, checking the information coming in the media, realizing its truth and gathering ideas.

Form

Form is one of the fundamentals of art. Form consists of length, width and volume. Forms can be classified as geometric forms and organic forms.

- Geometric Forms
  Shapes that are mathematically stable are called geometric shapes.
  Eg- cube, sphere etc.
- Organic Forms
  These are free forms. Examples of organic forms are animals, trees, leaves, stones, and humans.

Sculpture

Sculpture is a work of art that shapes the medium/material in a three-dimensional form. Sculptures physically present the measures of length, width and height. A sculpture can be viewed from all sides. They could also be touched.

Popular Dances

Everything in the universe has a rhythm. Even our breathing has its own rhythm. Depending on our mental condition, we can feel the difference in the rhythm of breathing and our movements. Songs are in different rhythm and everyone beat the rhythm while hearing a song.

Let's Dance

Haven't you heard of song with different rhythms?

Shall we dance in groups to songs with different rhythms? Follow the instructions given below.

- Divide into three groups. Each group should stand in a circle.
- Make rhythmic steps with the two minute drum beats.
- Move both hands in rhythm while taking steps.
- Move your hands, take steps and move in a circle.
- Don't forget to change direction every time you turn.

When we examine the cultural history of the countries of the world, we can see that art forms such as dance, music, painting and drama have an important place in it. Among them, many popular dance forms that have developed in various countries have become popular beyond national boundaries. Let's familiarize the popular dance forms that were developed in various countries.

Let's Know about Different Dance Forms

Disco dance

The popular dance, disco is an evolution of the 'discotic' dance music events that emerged as part of the urban lifestyle in the US in the 1960s. Disco Jockeys or D. J. are behind the making of this dance form.

Make Up Box

How different are the people around us? We can identify the differences in shape, dress, make up, attitude and thought. Look at the friends sitting nearby you. How different is each person.

Can you find out what changes occurred in the pictures given below from the above one.

Let's Put Make Up Together

Let's form groups of eight members. Each two groups stand face to face. The members of one group observe other group members carefully. The time for observation is one minute. After this, take five minutes to make changes in your costume and make up.

The two groups should come together again and find out the differences and note down them.

Eg- • Bindi (pottu) is removed • .....

• Put the palm in the pocket • .....

what are the other situations in which such costumes can be found?

Other groups can also repeat the same game. You have brought changes in costume and make up with the help of available materials, haven't you? Actors in drama use suitable costumes and make up to present characters. It is important for the formation and perfection of characters. Now, shall we read the script given below:

Script

Child 1	:	Do not go too far and hide... If you go out side the garden, you will be out of the game.
Beetle	:	If you can pick up the sweet flower from the wind mountain and give it me, I will fly and find out everyone for you. I have never drink the honey in the flower.
Child 1	:	You can fly away and drink by your self?
Beetle	:	None of us can fly there. It is very windy there.
Child 1	:	I will pluck the flower for you. Will you find them for me?
Dragonfly	:	Don't cheat in game. You find them all alone.
Hen	:	I have laid an egg in the lump of foliage under the chempaka tree. Don't ever step on that.
		(A crow comes flying)
Crow	:	Hey guys, escape.. escape.. The owner is coming.
All	:	Say it clear.
Crow	:	The owner of this garden is coming.
		(Children come outside)
All	:	Do gardens have owners?

Child 1 : Yes, I found you all.
Crow : Stop playing. Run.
Hen : No one needs to go. This is our place.
Crow : Haven't you seen him? Ten feet long, hairy body, overcoat out of sack, long teeth, huge ear, earth trembling walk, thundering smile.
Dragonfly : Hearing this itself frightens me.
(The giant enters with a frightening sound, accompanied by his wife and children)
Giant : If anyone enters my garden again, I won't spare him.
(A snake crawls on the giant's leg. The giant picks it up and throws it away.

Projects and Guidelines for Submission

Given below are the projects from five areas. Select one project accounting to your aptitude and submit the finished project before first term examination. Submit your own creation and presentation related to the project both digitally and manually. The questions asked in the practical exam will be related to the project.

1. Music

Find out songs related to different cultures and prepare a project. Perform the song.

- Onam songs
- Carol songs
- Oppana songs (Include collection of the above given songs, their features, associated pictures etc.)

What all can be included in the written project

Indicators

- Introduction
- Specialities of folk songs
- Pictures
- Notes
- Collection of songs
- Conclusion

2. Dance

During the initial stages of each dance form, both the environment and topography in which that dance form originated, influence the dance movements. What makes Mohiniyattam different is the body's twists, turns and movements.

Observe Mohiniyattam which is a unique art form of Kerala. Prepare a project on how it is different from other dance forms and also, on its costume and make-up.

Indicators

- Aaharyam (costume, make up)
- Speciality of music
- Speciality of steps
- Variety in body movements
- Application of mudras

3. Cinema

Find out the actors in your locality, gather their experiences of acting life and prepare a project on their acting techniques.

Indicators

- Film acting, drama acting
- Growth in acting career
- Role of costume and make up in acting
- Practise routine in daily life
- Conclusion
- Reference

4. Drama

Prepare a project on any one of the local art forms that includes songs and story telling.

Indicators

- Study of regional art forms
- Art forms which include story and songs
- Notes on artists practising such art forms
- Notes on art groups

5. Painting/Sculpture

Each place is a combination of different cultural, social, regional and geographical specialties. Therefore, each region will be full of similarities and contrasts with each other. Have you ever comprehended the diversities of your area? Have you found anything that can be described as your region's specialty? Think about it.

Suppose you got an opportunity to make a sculpture that marks your region. If so, how will the sculpture that you design look like? Try to prepare a small three-dimensional model (Maquette) of it, in any sculpting medium you are familiar with. Along with the model of the sculpture, prepare a project report also.

What all should be included in the project report

All details like thoughts before the making of the sculpture, consultations, ideas, form, size, medium, where to place the sculpture, how to construct it, at what height it should be placed, investigation and study of other sculptures and the area's peculiarities should be included in the project report.

Project Structure

Introduction

Introduction should include an outline of the intended sculpture.

The description part explains details like the purpose of setting up the sculpture, the stages of work until reaching the final form of sculpture, investigations, prior knowledge, sketches, media, inspection of the place the sculpture is to be installed, assessment of how high the sculpture can be viewed from any angle and how high the sculpture should be built.

The project report should also have a sub-summary that includes the importance of the sculpture, it's need, the experiences that the sculpture is likely to create in the viewers and the socio-cultural changes that are likely to occur in that region through the installation of the sculpture.

All activities should be digitally documented and submitted.

Let's Familiarise different talas

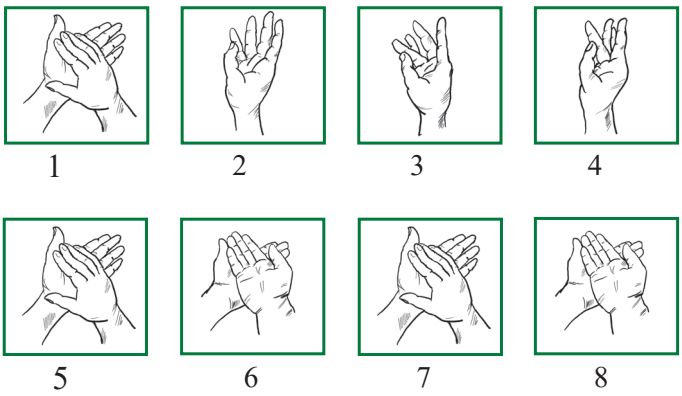
Carnatic music mainly consists of Adi, Rupaka and Chapu talas. The tala primarily practiced is known as 'Aditala'.

Let's Count and Beat the Rhythm

The second needle of the clock moves at a specific time sequence. Likewise, count aloud from one to eight at regular intervals.

Structure of Aditala

1	X	A beat
2	1	Tap the little finger
3	2	Tap the ring finger
4	3	Tap the middle finger
5	X	A beat
6	✓	A wave
7	X	A beat
8	✓	A wave



Come forward one by one and beat the tala according to the structure of the Aditala given above, as others count. (Make sure that the number and tala synchronize with each other)

Chiaroscuro

In the Italian language, 'Chiaro' means light and 'Scuro' means darkness. Chiaroscuro is a technique used in visual arts to represent light and shade while drawing three dimensional objects. Chiaroscuro was effectively applied in European painting in the late 15th century by Leonardo da Vinci. His painting 'Adoration of the Magi' is a good example of this. Under the influence of the 17th century artist Caravaggio, dramatic changes in light distribution came into existence in Italian painting. Rembrandt was a painter who excelled in incorporating chiaroscuro technique in art works. Painters such as Peter Paul Rubens and Diego Velazquez also used chiaroscuro.

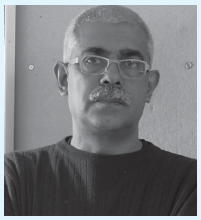
Let's Draw

Arrange available materials (eg:- plastic bottle, vessels, flower vase, vegetables, fruits etc.) on a table. Make arrangements so that light falls on the objects from one side. Observe the light shade distribution, characteristics of the surface etc., and draw the picture and colour it.



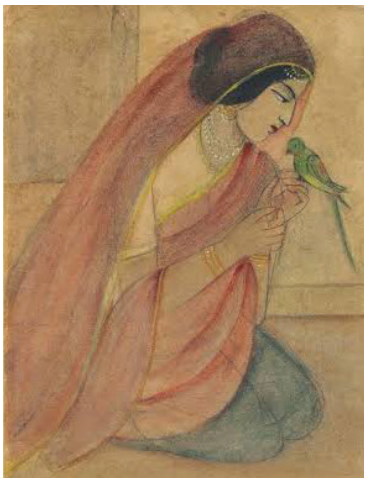
Surendran Nair

Surendran Nair is an internationally renowned Indian artist who creates works of art that incorporate visual elements and contemporaneity from Greek mythology, Indian iconography, and mythical stories. His art works can be seen in many public and private collections in India and abroad.

The Doctriane Of The Forest

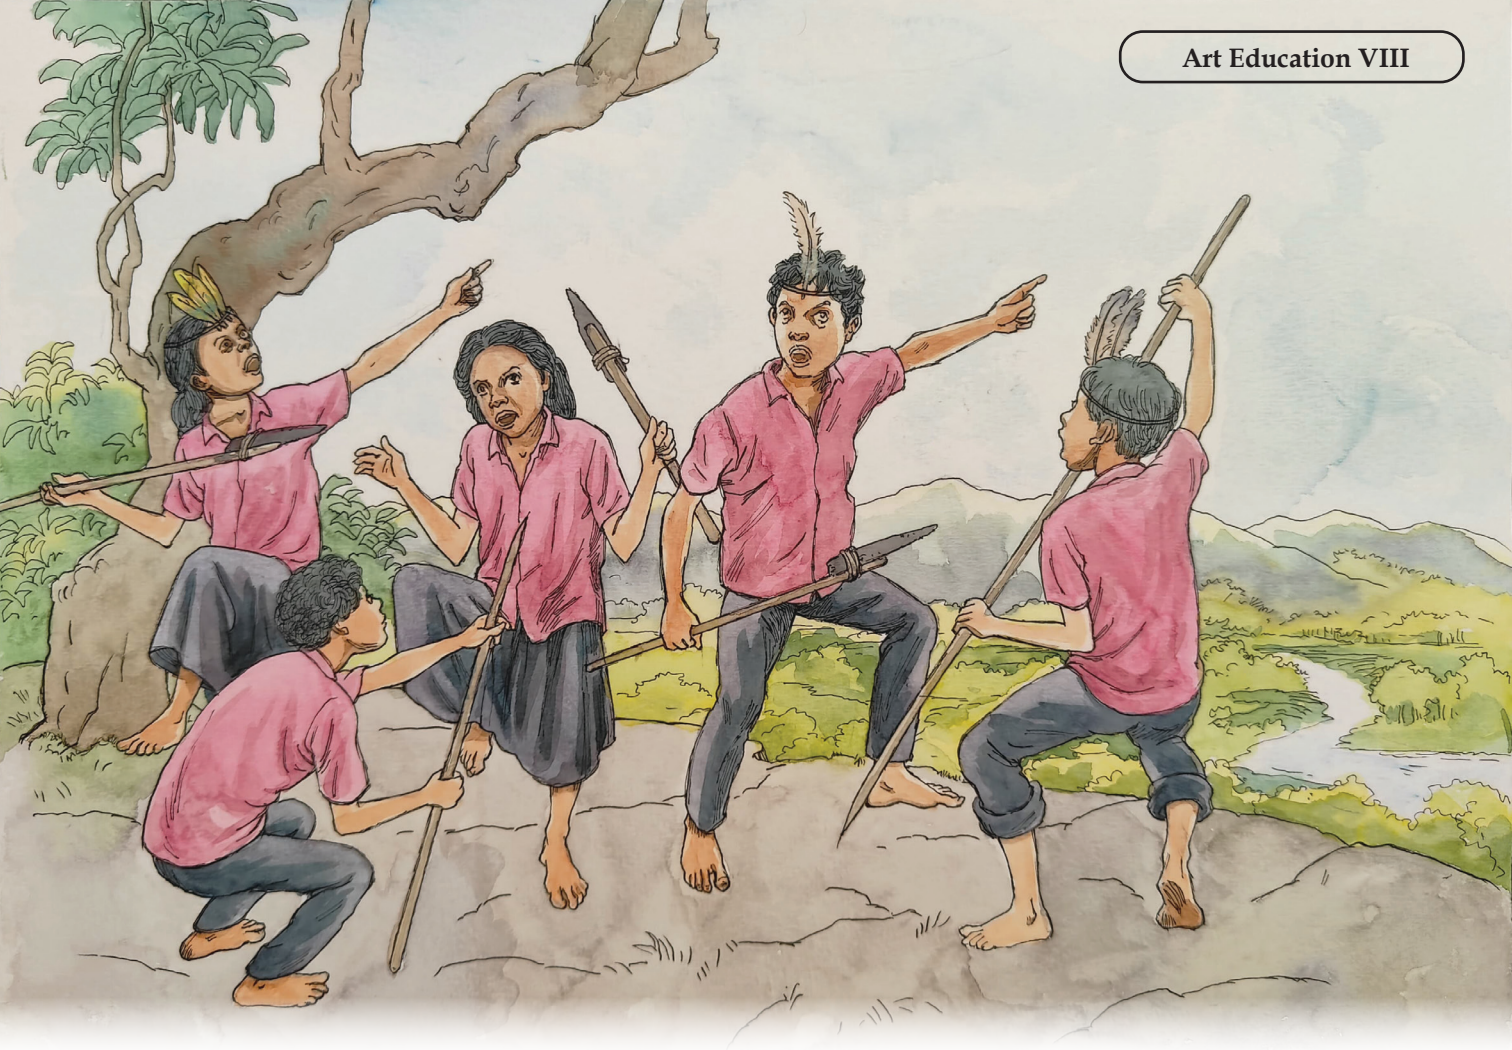
Observe how shadow and light are represented in the paintings given below. Understand the names of the paintings and the painters, and other details.

This is an oil painting named 'Gypsies' by Ravi Varma (1848 - 1906). Ravi Varma is a famous Indian painter who gained national attention for his paintings and oleograph prints depicting scenes from Indian myths and legends. 'Swan and Damayanthi', 'Woman Wearing Jasmine Flower', 'Here Comes Father', 'Arjuna and Subhadra', 'North Indian Woman with Milk Pot', 'Santhanu and Satyavathy', 'Jatayuvadham' etc. are Ravi Varma's famous paintings.



This is a painting by Sunayani Devi (1875-1962), named 'Lady with a Parrot'. Born in Calcutta, Sunayani Devi was an artist who grew up in the midst of the cultural upheavals of the Bengal Renaissance. The paintings of her brothers Gaganendranath Tagore and Abaneendranath Tagore influenced Sunayani during the early stages. Indian mythical stories and Bengali life have influenced her paintings. She beautifully portrayed the solitude, pensive mood and tenderness of women's lives. Sunayani Devi is known to be the first Indian woman painter to gain public recognition.

This is a painting named 'The Girl in a Picture Frame' by Rembrandt (1606-1669), an accomplished painter, draftsman and etching artist. Rembrandt is known as the greatest artist of the Dutch Golden Age. Rembrandt painted a wide variety of subjects, including portraits, self-portraits, landscapes, imaginary and historical scenes, biblical and mythological themes. Rembrandt was an artist who effectively used chiaroscuro, a technique of light-shadow arrangement, in his paintings.



Some Purpose

Everybody close your eyes and concentrate on the sounds around you.

What sounds are you hearing? Can you note down?

- Children talking
- Ring of bell

Imagine that you are in a forest. Imitate the sounds you may hear there.

- Animals
- Birds
- Wind
- Stream
- .....

Shall we form groups on basies of the imitated sounds? Each group makes the sound they had imitated. After that, all groups make the sound together.

The picture of children presenting ancient people hunting for food is given above.

Observe the picture. Who are the characters? How would be their movements and body language? Form four groups and perform it with necessary preparations.

The first group may present it without dialogues, and the other groups may use dialogues. Are the presentations over? What were the differences between the presentations? What can be done to improve the quality of performance?

Discuss in group using the following indicators.

Indicators

- Body
- Language
- Sound
- Dress

Present the ideas formed in the discussion.

- While presenting characters, bring out variations according to their sitution and nature.
- The variety of the character should be according to the story background.

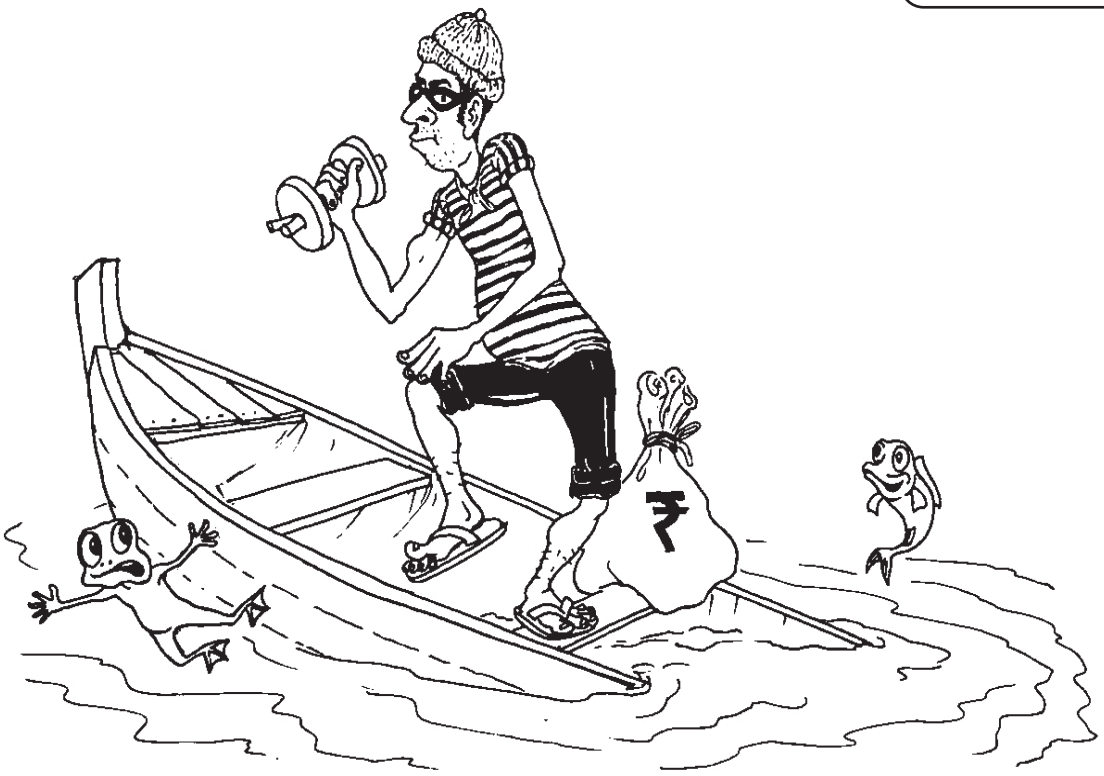
Let's Create Characters

Character	Context	Action
• Thief • Scientist Cock • Ceature from other planet • Cricket player • Speace observer	• Festival • Day of fever • Night • Day of the exam • Boat about to sink • Rainy season	• Drinking tea • Doing exercise • Catching fish • Brushing teeth

Choose suitable character, context and action from the list and perform it. Evaluate the performances of other.



Example: A thief doing exercises in a sinking boat.

Viola Spolin

Viola Spolin is an American theatre educator and acting coach Who developed directorial techniques for improvisation acting in the twentieth century. She has published the books 'Improvisation to the Theatre', 'Theatre Games for Rehearsal', and 'A Director's Handbook'. Active in children's theater, Spolin organized weekly theatre performances for children from 1959 onwards. She received an honorary doctorate from Eastern Michigan University.

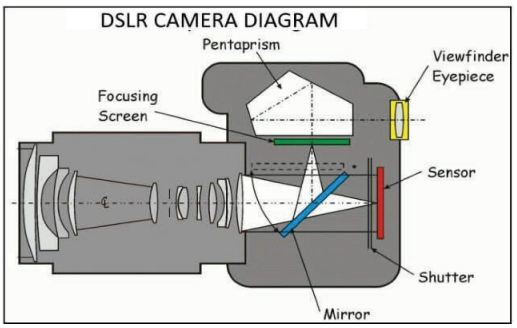
Capturing History

Observe the above picture. It is the sight of a child crawling towards the food center during the famine in Sudan in 1993. These types of pictures prove that pictures are more powerful than words. This is a photograph that captures the living conditions of the country, which evokes the horror of extreme hunger and death. What are the technologies behind the birth of such photographs? What are the things you care about while taking photographs.

Camera's Operation



In order to understand the operation of the camera, one must know about the camera body and the lens. Photographs are taken by suitably arranging the light coming into the camera. The amount of light is controlled by varying the size of the diaphragm inside the lens (Aperture/f-stop) and by adjusting the shutter speed on the camera body as required. Apart from this, the light sensitivity can be adjusted by varying the sensitivity (ISO) of the camera sensor. Perfect pictures can be taken when these three settings are in perfect harmony. Pro-Mode in smartphone cameras has these settings. Beautiful photos could be captured with smartphone cameras also.

Take different photos that can represent your school. You can capture from different angles, from nearby and from far away. You can use the school camera or your teachers' mobile phone camera. Present the photos in the class using a digital projector.

Preparation

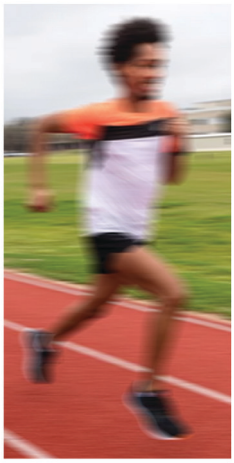
- Selecting the time to shoot
- Prepare the camera, mobile phone camera, tripod, memory card and battery
- Arranging the time to shoot (morning, afternoon, evening)
- Editing, Presentation

History records that in 1826, the French scientist Joseph Nicephore Niepce recorded and presented a scene for the first time. Louis Daguerre's 'daguerreotype camera' was the first commercially produced camera system. This camera lounched the public market on August 19, 1839. This day is observed as World Photography Day.

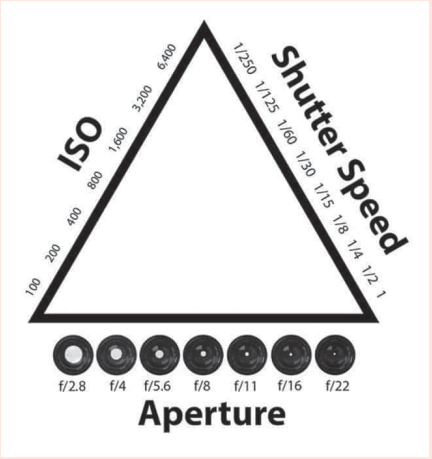
Shutter Speed

A shutter is a mechanism inside the camera body, which can be opened and closed, that allows light to pass through to the sensor. The speed at which the shutter operates is called the shutter speed (Eg: S-1/500, 1/250/, 1/125, 1/60, 1/30, 1/15, 1 Second). S-1/125 refers to the speed with which the shutter opens and closes in 125th fraction of a second. As the speed decreases, more light hits the sensor. By increasing the shutter speed, you can capture moving objects with its speed.

1/500



1/15

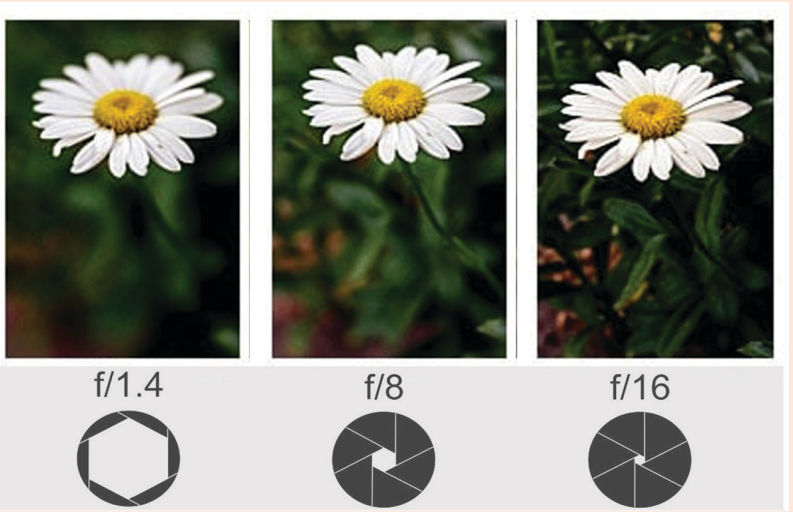


Exposure

When a picture is taken, light from the scene enters the camera and hits the sensor to create a digital image. Exposure refers to how bright or dark the resulting photo is. By using the manual mode (M) on the camera to keep the shutter, aperture, and ISO in balance, we can capture a picture with perfect exposure. A diagram that shows its value is the Exposure Triangle.

Aperture

The structure of the camera is similar to our eyes. Aperture is the hole that lets light into the lens. The larger the aperture, the more light hits the sensor.



I S O

ISO or the sensitivity of the sensor is the mechanism that controls the light sensitivity of the sensor. As its number increases, the sensitivity of the sensor also increases. To capture objects in low light, increasing ISO will be helpful.

Prepare a digital album selecting any one of the subjects given below. Put suitable captions for photos. The selected objected should be photographed at different times to understand the difference in the photo. Present the album in the class (Digital/Manual).

- Love for fellow beings
- Sports

Let's Familiarise the Lenses

Open file 3.8 from school resource folder

Zoom Lens

While shooting, instead of replacing lenses according to field of view, a single lens with many fields of view can be used. These lenses are called zoom lenses.

Wide Lens

Wide lenses have wide angle (35 mm, 18 mm), and they are used to capture wide scenes.

Normal Lens

Normal vision lenses provide views similar to those of the human eye (50 mm).

Telephoto Lens

Lenses (70 mm, 105 mm, 210 mm) that can capture distant objects close up.

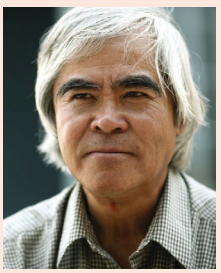
Raghu Rai (1942)

Raghu Rai is a world famous Indian photographer and Photojournalist. In 1984, he released a documentary on the Bhopal chemical disaster and published a follow-up book, 'Exposure: A Corporate Crime'. Rai has authored more than 18 books focusing on Indian people and culture. He received Padmashree in 1971.

Nick Ut (1952-2017)

Nick Ut is a world famous American photographer. He was a photojournalist for the Associated Press. In 1972, Nic Ut won the Pulitzer Prize for his photograph of Phan Thi Kim Phuc, a 9-year-old girl with her clothes burning and running naked to escape a bomb attack in the village of Trunk Bank in South Vietnam during the Vietnam War. He has received the World Press Photo Prize of Kerala Media Academy.



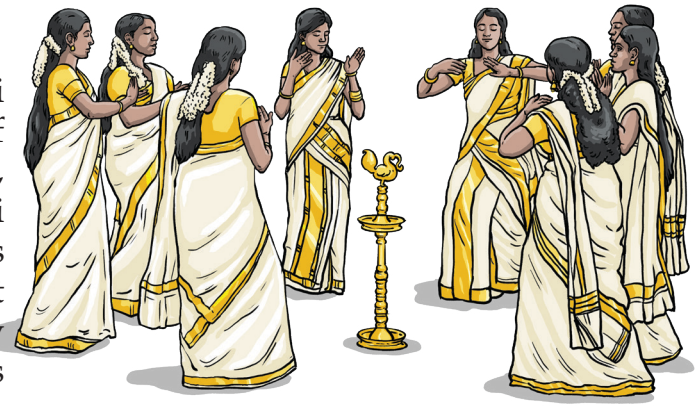
Group Dances

Do you clap at the end of a performance or presentation you like? How many people will clap? Shall we clap in class? Start clapping one by one, beginning with the last bench. After each person in the class has clapped, everyone should clap together, starting with a low volume and slowly building up to a loud volume. Repeat this action to get the class ringing with claps.

- Note down the experience of group clapping in a notebook.

Working in groups has been a part of human life since ancient times. Group dance refers to the dance of a group of people in rhythm with music. There are many popular group dances that incorporate the social and cultural characteristics of each region. Let's get to know some of the popular group dances in Kerala.

Thiruvathirakkali and Kaikottikkali



Thiruvathirakkali and Kaikottikkali are group dance performances of Kerala. In some regions of Kerala, Thiruvathirakali and Kaikottikkali are the same. But in some places these two are known as different art forms. Thiruvathirakali is usually performed by women. Kaikottikali is performed by both men and women, either together or separately.

The songs used in Kaikottikkali have a regional origin. Thiruvathirakkali is performed by dancers moving around a lighted lamp from beginning to end. Songs based on mythological stories and 'Kathakalipadams' are used for Thiruvathirakkali.

Let's Play Kummiyadi

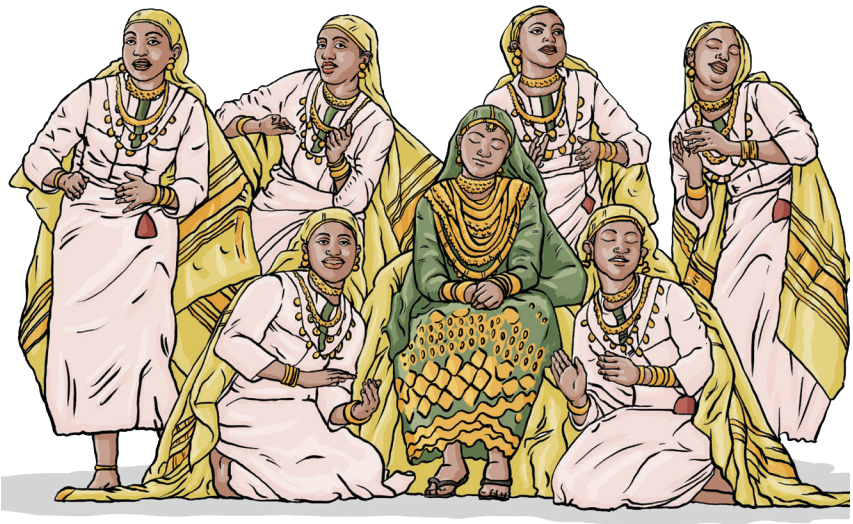
Practise Kummi by clapping and singing the Kummi song beginning with the above given lines.

Oppana

Oppana is played by women singing melodiously, clapping and moving around the bride. Oppana is an inevitable art form in the celebrations of Malabar, especially in Muslim weddings.



Let's Familiarise an Oppana Song

'Gunamaniyaya rasoolulla
Thani pakarum guru noorulla
Jahapara nabiyam habeebulla
Irayonte kaniye sollalla
Pathi makkathudichulla malaralle
Parisudha kathiroli badaralle
Parimala surabhila kavalle
Periyonte khudsile mayilalle'

Mund, upper dress, thattam, ornaments and arappatta are the costumes of women performing Oppana. Traditional sets of Mappilappattu are used for Oppana. Harmonium, Tabla and Tambourine are the instruments used in Oppana.

The poet Moyin Kutti Vaidyar is known as an 'Intimate of mappilappattu' (mappilappattinte Kalithozhan). 'Badarul Muneer Husnul Jamal' is his first romantic legendary poem. He authored Mappilappattu using the blends of Malayalam, Tamil, Arabic and Sanskrit.

Vattappattu

Vattappattu is a mappila art form similar to Oppana. It is performed by men, as Oppana is performed by women. Vattappattu was a song recited by people to express happiness during weddings. It begins with the welcoming of the bridegroom to the bride's house, then the argument with the bride's relatives, and ends in a reconciliation.

Let's Familiarise a Vattappattu

'Manikya kallude chonkume
Nanichidum chelolilenkume
Manalan muhabathin
Athr pavume...
Innu maninbathasakayil
Muvazhthidume...

Eenam thudi kottana nenjilu
Kana malarokkeyum monjilu
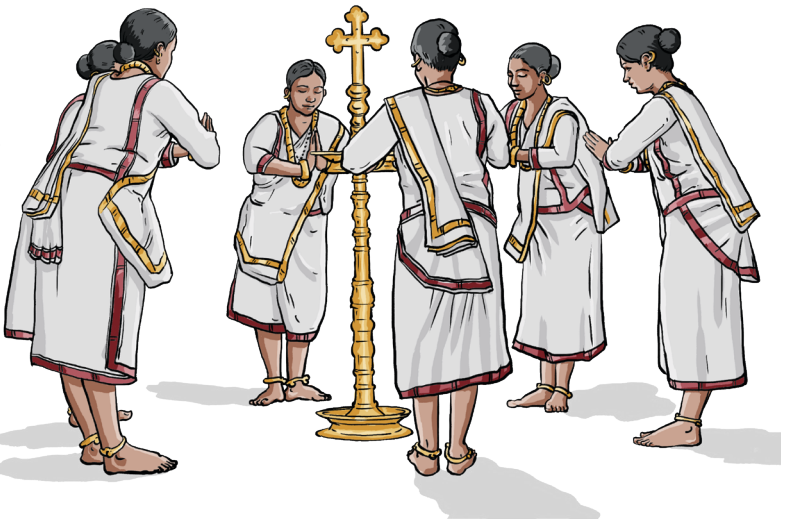
Nanathee arakudum puthukkathilu
Bannam... eemante thelimayil
Nukarum haalu..'

Margam Kali



Margam Kali is an art form in which women dressed in the traditional Christian attire of chatta and mundu stand in a circle around a lamp and sing and Dance. Songs based on the history of Thomasleeha are used for Maragamkali. Small hand bell is the only instrument used in Margam Kali. The lively rhythm and accompanying steps make the Margam Kali attractive.

'Meykanintha peeliyumayil
Melthonnum meniyum
They they piditha dandum
Kaiyum meyyum ennekkum vazhke
They they vazhka vazhka
Nammude pareekshayellam bhoomimel

The World of Logo

Are you familiar with the pictures given below? Write down the names of the ones you can identify.

1. ..... 2. ..... 3. ..... 4. ..... 5. ..... 6. .....

Let's Prepare Logo

Give a suitable name for the school environment club and prepare a logo.

Things to keep in mind while Preparing Logo

- Similarity with the idea
- Reduce the number of lines and colours (Minimalistic)
- Include captions
- Use forms, colours, letters etc. attractively
- Observe unique and different logos available now.

Logo

A logo is a visual symbol that represents a company or brand. It is prepared to promote a business, product or service. Typography, symbols and colours are the basic elements of creating a logo.

Use pencil, calligraphy pen, brush, colours, chisel marker etc. Present the finished logo in class.

Different Types of Logos

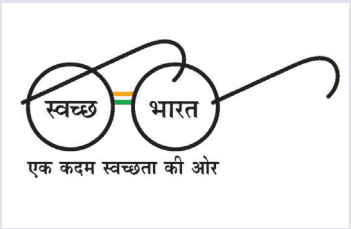
1. Word Mark- These logos are prepared using letters and colours only. (Eg- Incredible India).
2. Pictorial Mark- The logos prepared using only a particular shape/ symbol / icon/form are called Pictorial Mark. (Eg- Kochi Metro).
3. Emblem- The logos in which letters are portrayed in a particular form or inside a particular shape are called Emblems. (Eg- Indian Railway)
4. Combination Mark- Logos which include features of various logo categories are called Combination Mark. (Eg- Kerala - God's own country)

Caption

A caption is a short sentence that is added with an image, graphic, logo or design. Captions are used to convey the idea, message, etc. of products, initiatives, and services to consumers and to attract people's attention.

Subdivisions of Caption

1. Slogan- Phrases that are easy to remember (eg- "Ek Kadam Swachatha ki Aur")
2. Tagline- Sentences accompanying a brand's logo (eg- "New era in Public Transport" - KSRTC Swift)
3. Urgency & Scarcity - Captions sentence used to indicate short term offers. (eg: "Limited Time offer")
4. Descritive caption - Sentence that add details about a product (eg_ "100% cotton")



The Swachh Bharat logo was designed by Anant Khasbar Dar, a native of Maharashtra. The tag line that accompanies the logo was designed by Bhagyashree Sheth. The logo represents the vision of Mahatma Gandhi. In the logo, it is an image of the tricolor flag that connects the two halves of Mahatma Gandhi's spectacles. It signifies the entire country coming together to embrace Gandhi's vision of a clean India. The tagline encourages every citizen to contribute in their own way for a clean India.

Let's Make

Let's make 10 centimetre square boxes to wrap prizes for the students who excelled in activities conducted by the nature club. What are the things to remember?

- Use suitable chart paper, straw board etc.
- Sketch the below given model on a paper
- Draw the logo designed for nature club on a suitable side of the box. Write the caption attractively.
- After the drawing is completed, cut the box shape from the paper, fold, and glue it to complete. (Look at the model)
- Present the finished packages in the class.

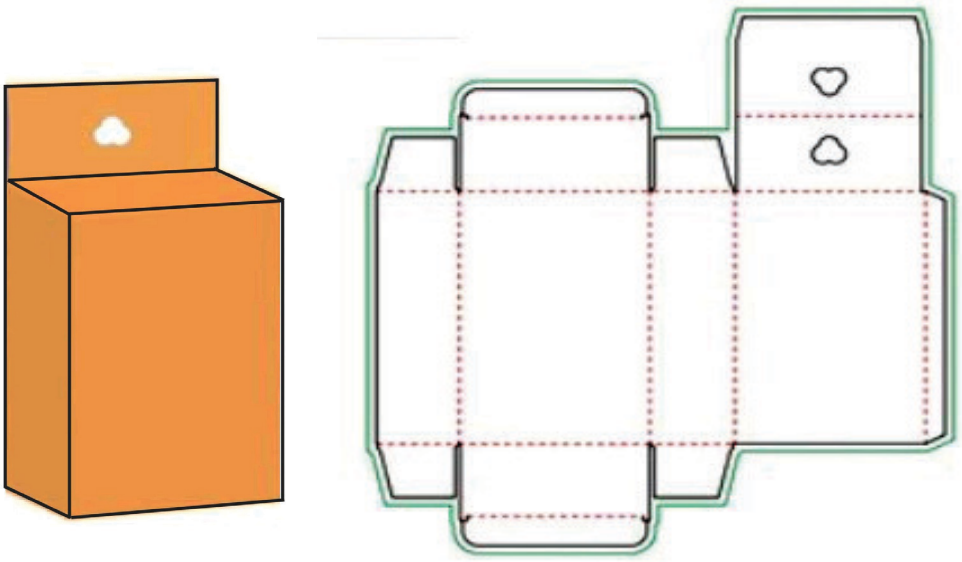
Packaging

Packaging is basically an attractive framework for protecting a product. The shape and size of the product influences the shape and size of the package. Aesthetic and scientific packaging attracts people's attention to the product.

1. Observe the picture of a package with a different shape. You can create such a package



2. Draw the design for unique and different packages, and try to make them.
3. Make a package with an attractive style and a different shape to give a friend's birthday gift. Finish by drawing and coloring.
4. Collection of various logos can be done as a project.

You can conduct follw up works on the activities you like from the above given four activities

R. K. Joshi

R. K. Joshi is a famous Indian type designer and calligrapher. As a master of designing letters of alphabet and their shapes, styles he designed campaigns in various Indian languages and designed advertisements using Indian calligraphy with several typefaces. He introduced the concept of multilingual advertising campaigns in India. Logos of India Post, Punjab National Bank and Steel Authority of India are his creations.

Everybody, sing this song. What idea did you get from this song? Note down.

Let's be a Tree

Now let's play a game where we communicate with the trees. Divide into groups of three pupils. This game should be played, joining with any of the trees in the school premises. Two people in the group should be the hands of the tree. The third should be the voice of the tree. The three together introduce the tree to others. Others can ask questions to the tree.

Questions

- Do you get water?
- What is the name of the tree?
- Where do your roots go?

You can ask other relevent questions also

Answer these questions using voice and hand gestures as you make your performance. Each group can stick to different trees to make the game funny. The performance of each group can be discussed and evaluated based on the following indicators.

- Were you able to think on behalf of the tree, to the audience's questions?
- Could you understand and talk about the conditions of the tree?
- Could the tree's emotional states be brought into the performance?
- What can be done to improve communication with the audience?

Theatre of Ecology

Ecological theatre is a form of drama based on themes related to nature that emphasizes environmental protection and the relationship between nature and humans. Backgrounds such as forests, rivers and sea shores are the presentation spaces of Ecology Theatre. Stage properties and costumes are made of eco-friendly materials. Renewable energy sources are used for technical purposes.

Marayashan and Friends

Haven't you formed characters by giving voice and body movement to trees? Now shall we move on to the performance by making we use of the tree and surrounding?

Let's form four groups. Each group shall choose different trees and interact as if talking with the tree.

The presentation should be an exchange of ideas with the tree. Communicate with the audience along with the tree. Discuss the strengths and weaknesses.

Prepare the presentation based on the dialogues given below. Use necessary stage properties and background music.

Pupil 1: Do you know who this is? How long has he been here? What do you feel like calling him?

Pupil 2 : Marayashan

Pupil 3 : Thankan

Pupil 4 : Federick

Pupil 1 : Super, super. All the names are fantastic.

Pupil 3 : But, one name should be selected.

Pupil 1 : Shall we call him 'Marayashan'? (The tree sways with the wind)

Pupil 4 : Look, Marayashan liked it. He sways his head.

Pupil 1 : But Marayashan is sad. He is not responding to my questions. We shall ask together.

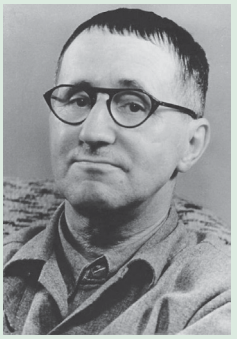
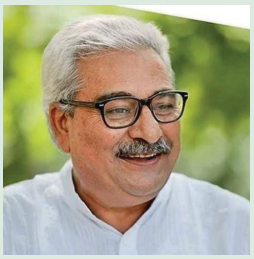
Bertolt Brecht

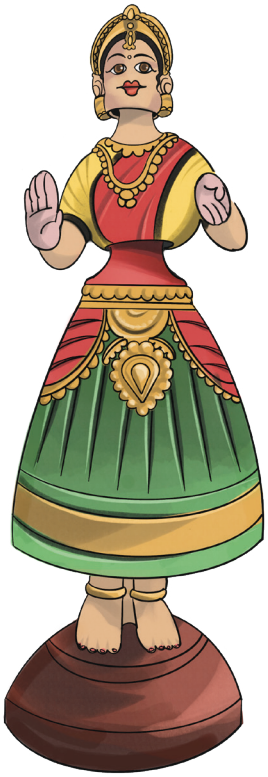


Bertolt Brecht is the most remarkable dramatist of the 20th century. He was very much impressed by Marxism. Fascinated by Irwin Piscator's concept of political drama, he enriched the theatre with many experiments using Epic Theatre techniques Brecht's approach to drama was such as to make the audience think and take a stand. The task of drama is not to imitate life or to present life itself. What made Brecht notable was the realization that stage is to be used as a platform to give insight into the changes in society and the course of history.



Bansi Kaul (1949 - 2021)

Bansi Kaul is a renowned theatre director and writer who was born in Srinagar. He was a director in the Repertory theatre at the National School of Drama. He received Padmashree in 2014. In 1986, he started a theatre platform called 'Rangavidushak'. He directed more than 100 plays including 'Mricchakatikam', 'Ala Afsar', 'Saudagar Andhayug', and 'Kahan Kabir'.



Bharatanatyam

Which are the situation when you communicate through gestures? What are the uses of doing so?

Communicate the ideas given below through gestures. Find out other situations like this and communicate through gestures.

Are you using only the hand for communicating with gestures?

Right from the ancient times, mudras (gestures) are used in some dance forms to communicate ideas. In classical dance forms, communication is made through mudras, facial expression, and body movements.

Apart from body movements, bhavabhinaya also plays an important role in Bharatanatyam. Hands or mudras are used for communication. The same mudras express different meanings depending on the context. In this way, various hand movements like 'asamyukta', 'samyukta', and 'nritta hastas' are used in Bharatanatyam.

Bharatanatyam

Bharatanatyam is a dance form that originated in Tamil Nadu. History records that dance was performed in temples as a part of temple worship and Devadasis were appointed for that purpose. Later this dance art started to be performed in royal audiences, houses of lords etc. Artist brothers Chinnaiah, Ponnaiah, Vadivelu and Sivanandam, who were musicians in the court of the Maratha kings, gave this dance form its unique structure. Alarip, Jatiswaram, Sabdam, Varnam, Padam, Tillana and Slokam are the main iteams of Bharatanatyam. The costumes include attractive and colorful sarees, hair ornaments, nose rings, various necklaces, Udyanam(Arapatta), bangles, rings and chilanga.

Let's Familiarise Western Music

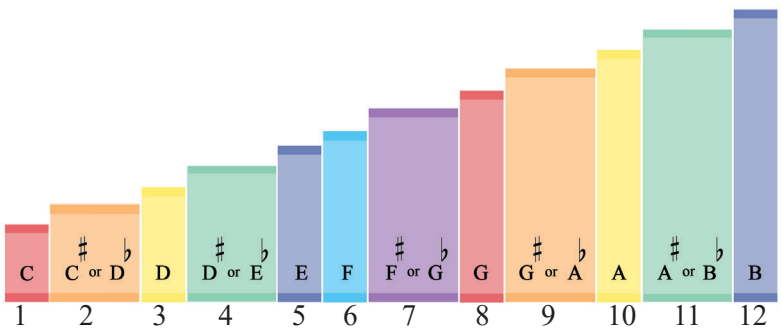
The base of Western Music is seven notes.

Notes		Letters that denote notes
1	Do	C
2	Re	D
3	Mi	E
4	Fa	F
5	So	G
6	La	A
7	Si/T1	B

Observe the white and black keys of the keyboard. These represent different notes (swaras). There will be twelve swarasthanas comprising seven notes.

Let's Know

Let's know the twelve notes in one octave.



The note that comes just above a note is called sharp and a note that comes just below a note is called flat.

Sharp ♯ Flat ♭

Sound differences of notes can be understood by using the keyboard app in your mobile phone or keyboard in your school.

Keyboard

The keyboard is an electronic musical instrument used world wide. It is an electronic mechanical instrument that plays notes (swaras) using keys. Its keys are arranged based on the notes. Key boards with three to five and a half octaves are popular. The sounds of various musical instruments can be played through the keyboard.

IMAGINE
(Song by John Lennon)

Imagine there's no heaven
It's easy if you try
No hell below us
Above us, only sky

Imagine all the people Livin' for today

Imagine there's no countries
It isn't hard to do
Nothing to kill or die for
And no religion, too

Imagine all the people Livin' life in peace

Have you noticed the pictures above? Create a story in your imagination, based on the pictures, and write it down. Arrange the scenes in accordance with the story and write their numbers in frames given below.

Choose a scene you like and prepare a video by shooting it in ten different shots of four seconds each. Edit with suitable title and music. Maximum one minute duration. Video can be presented in class.

Editing

Editing is the process of selecting the appropriate shots from those captured in the camera and combining them to create a new visual narrative. In the early days it was done by cutting and pasting the film. Now editing is done with the help of computers using editing software and mobile apps.

Open Shot Video Editor and K-den Live are video editing softwares in Ubuntu, which is a free operating system.

Techniques in Editing

Transitions are techniques used in editing to combine shots or scenes. Let's familiarise with some transition effects.

- Dissolve: Dissolve is a slow blending of one shot to another. It is used to reflect time and duration.
- Wipe: This is an effect in which one scene of the frame is slowly wiped out and another scene gradually comes sliding from one side.
- Cut: Cut, in editing, is the combining of shots without any transitions.
- Gap Cut: Gap cut is the effect that occurs when joining together scenes by cutting away a few frames from the middle of a continuous action.

Outer Form and Inner Self

Diya was sitting in the veranda of the hospital, waiting for her turn to see the doctor. Watching around, she saw some people, sitting the people who are moving in wheelchairs, bystanders of patients, among them people of different age groups, fatigued people, worried people etc.

Many different forms, emotions, body language. If this much diversity is seen in such a small place, what more could be seen in the people living in the various parts of the world? How did this much variety of people evolve?

Diya thought of the human figures she had drawn the last day. The human figures in her pictures were all alike. But, what about here.

Let's Observe the Pictures

People are different due to factors such as topography, climate, lifestyle and evolutionary characteristics of the body structure. Observe the pictures and understand the specialties.

Let's Draw

Now, shall we look at someone and draw? The teacher is the model! Observe and draw the characteristics of the teacher.

Indicators

- Form
- Light & Shade
- Age
- Dress

Express with the use of lines.

Live model

A live model is a human or other living being used to understand body structure, form, expression, etc., and to observe and draw as part of art studies.

Display the finished pictures and share the specialties and your drawing experience.

As a follow-up activity, observe and draw familiar people, emphasizing appearance. Display the finished pictures in class.

Anatomy

Anatomy is the identification and description of the body's structure and components. Human figures and anatomy have great importance in painting and sculpture. Rendering a likely form of a person, using the human form as a representation, expressing the artist's particular vision of the subject, etc. are all possible through portrayal of the human form.

Human form has been expressed through art works of various regions and periods.

Indicators

- The nature of human figures
- Colours
- Movements of body parts
- Emotions

Prepare a note of appreciation on the picture you like, based on the indicators.

Gesture

Gesture is the use of movement of the body or organs to express ideas, feelings, attitudes etc. In painting and sculpture, body movements are used as a means of expressing ideas.

Saint Catherine of Alexandria Raphael

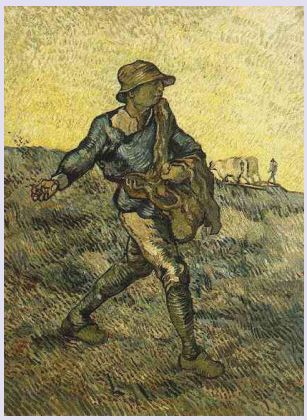
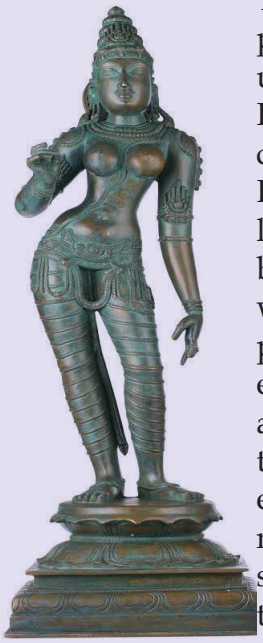
Posture

Posture can be defined as the various positions the body manifests during various activities. Various postures are expressed in works of art to convey the ideas or intentions of the artist to the audience.



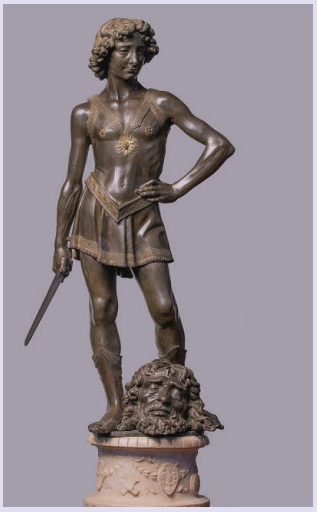
The sower
Vincent van Gogh

Tribhanga

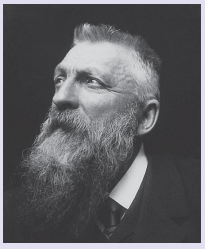


Tribhanga is a body position or stance used in traditional Indian art and Indian classical dance forms. It is a pose that involves bends in the body parts like neck, waist and knees. This posture is used to enhance dynamism and aesthetics and to express various emotions. While the neck is tilted to one side, the waist is bent to its opposite side. Also, in Tribhanga pose, the knee of one leg is straight and the other one is bent.

Contrapposto

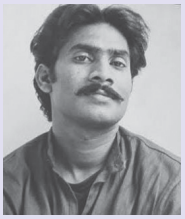


Contrapposto is a technique used in classical sculpture to create a more natural and dyna mic pose for the human figure. In standing poses, it is possible to create spontaneity and mobility for humans by adjusting the body weight on one leg and tilting the hips and shoulders in the opposite direction. The definition of the Italian word 'contrapposto' is counterpose or 'opposition'. The contrapposto technique was used in Roman sculpture and later in the Italian Renaissance.



Auguste Rodin (1840-1917)

Rodin is a French sculptor who is considered to be the founder of modern sculpture. The Thinker, Monument to Balzac, The Kiss, The Burghers of Calais, and The Gates of Hell are some of his famous sculptures.



K. P. Krishnakumar (1959-1989)

K. P. Krishnakumar is a famous sculptor who played a major role in the formation of modern Indian art. Krishnakumar, an early student of Thiruvananthapuram Fine Arts College, joined Shantiniketan for further studies in sculpture. Krishnakumar was a major figure among the founders of the Radical Indian Painters and Sculptors Association, an artist group formed in 1987. His sculptures such as the Tagore sculpture at Amir Kutiri in Shantiniketan, Boatman, Monkey and The Thief are very famous.

Forming Together

Observe the pictures given above. What idea do the three pictures convey? Note down below.

- Three stages of a running race

Let's form groups containing six or more pupils. Each group shall select an idea from those given below. Present three scenes on the idea you selected, like the ones given above.

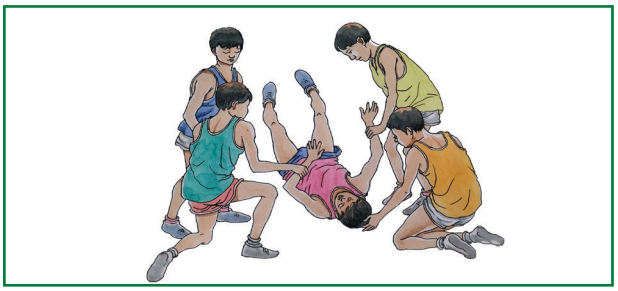
- Football play
- Bus stop
- Tea shop
- Fishing

What ideas like this can you find out? Remember to choose a suitable space for presentation.

Isn't the presentation over?

- Were the expressions for ideas visible?
- Could you present the body language as suitable for the idea?
- Could you make use of the stage according to the idea?

Notice that there is a change in the storyline in the pictures given below, when a conflict is added to the idea of the pictures given in the beginning.



Add such conflicts in the ideas you selected, and present five still images group wise. Are the presentations over? What changes are implemented in the presentations this time? How do they influence the story line? Discuss.

Conflict

A close observation of nature reveals that continuous small movements give rise to non-stop large movements. Similarly, movement in the plot is necessary to keep the interest of the audience intact and provide visual interest in the play. It is the different developments and the movements of the characters and incidents, and their consequences that make the play tense. Conflict is the basic element that creates a challenge in the structure of the play or fills the audience with excitement. The audience needs to feel that these conflicts are occurring naturally. The intensity of the conflict depends on the characters' internal struggles.

Dramatize the storyline you formed. Perform the scripted play with the necessary preparations including background, properties, costume and make-up using the materials available. Discuss the presentations of each group based on the following indicators.

Indicators

- Idea
- Storyline
- Characters
- Setting the scene
- Costume
- Make Up

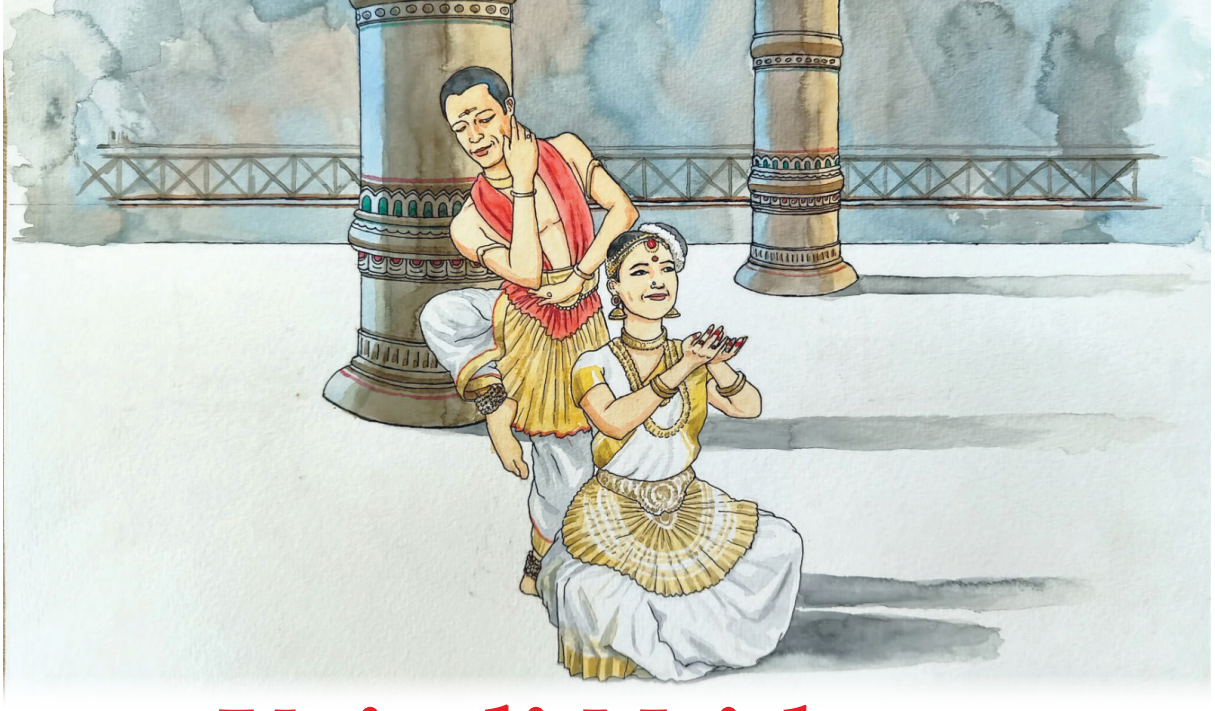
He has received many honours such as Sahitya Akademi Award, the Jnanpeeth, Padmashree, Padma Bhushan, Kalidas Samman etc.



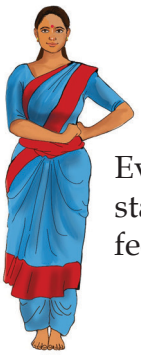
Kairali Nritham

Haven't you noticed the movements in nature? Shall we go outside and watch how the plants are swaying? The movement of each plant is different. Each of you shall observe the movement of a plant and present it in the class.

"Like the tender rice sapling trembling in the breeze,
Tender should be the body movements of the dancer."
(Kalamandalam Kalyanikkuttiyamma- Mohiniyattam Teacher)

The above lines mean that each dance form is influenced by the environment and nature in which it originated. The movement of Mohiniyattam is characterized by the swaying, twisting and oscillating movements of the body. Circular movements are mostly used in Mohiniyattam.

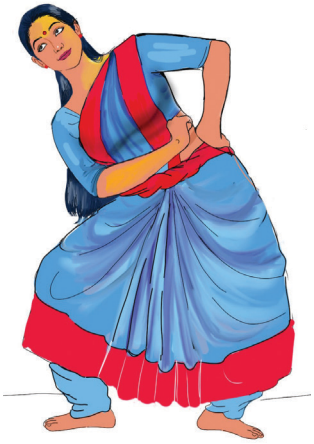
Let's Sway



Everyone stand up and stand squarely with their feet together (image 1)

Sit in aramandalam with knees bent and feet about one and a half feet apart (image 2).

(image 3)



(image 4)

Keep your hands on your waist and sway from shoulder to waist to both sides (image 3 & 4).

- The swaying movement should be smooth and careful not to move below the waist. Do this activity as a team in the same rhythm and harmony.

Mohiniyattam is a lasya dance form of Kerala. Mohiniyattam was given a new life by Mahakavi Vallathol Narayanana Menon through Kerala Kalamandalam. He wished to rename Mohiniyattam as Kairali Nritham. Mohiniyattam has been taught in Kerala Kalamandalam since 1932. The first teacher of Mohiniyattam was Orickaledath Kalyaniyamma and the first student was Thankamani. In the early days, Thoppimaddalam was the main instrument used for Mohiniyattam. Later, Mridangam and Idaka were started to be used. Pullamkuzhal, veena and violin are pakkavadyas of Mohiniyattam. Mohiniyattam is performed as an ekaharya dance form. It's practice consists of twists and turns to gain flexibility and flow of the body.

Observe the diverse costumes of Mohiniyattam and make notes about the costume, the colour of the dress, the details of the ornaments and the way the hair is tied.

Dancers must constantly practice eye and face skills. After that the items are practised. Different styles exist in Mohiniyattam based on presentation and music used in the backdrop. Kalamandalam style, Kalyanikuttiyamma style and Sopanam style are some of them.

Let's Practise

Given below are the presentation pictures of a Mohiniyattam step in order. Practise and present the movements in between the images.

Composition

Composition is the way of arranging aesthetically and creatively the fundamentals of visual art like lines, colours, forms and shapes in painting. Based on ideas and style various elements of visual art like rhythm, balance, harmony, symmetry and scale become a part of composition. It not only holds the attention of the viewers, but also enables emotional experience and communication. Composition methods are used in various art areas like visual art, photography and graphic design. Rule of the third, golden ratio Fibonacci composition etc. are methods of composition.

Let's Familiarise Composition Methods

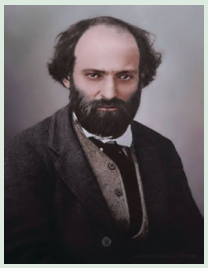
Arrange and Draw

Draw an imaginative picture including the elements and methods of composition comprehended through observation, add colours and exhibit.

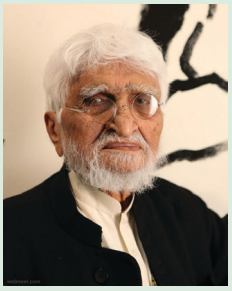


Paul Cezanne (1839-1906)

Paul Cezanne is a French artist who was very influential in the transition from 19th century artistic styles to modernism. He studied and explored the mutual relationship and influence of line, plane and colour on the painting canvas. Cezanne's analytical approach and linear perspective which recognised everything that he saw through its primary geometric form paved the way for focusing objects on their surfaces and viewing them from different angles.

Francisco Goya (1746-1828)

Goya was a Spanish romantic painter and printmaker. He is considered as one of the best Spanish painters who lived between the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. He focussed on portraying the changes and upheavals of the time in which he lived. 'The Third of May 1808' is a famous painting of Goya who had a critical view on wars and massacres. Goya, who made his own mark in printmaking, is the first artist who made effective use of aquatint technique.



M. F. Hussain (1915-2011)

M. F. Hussain is a famous Indian artist of the twentieth century. He was one of the founding members of Bombay Progressive Artist Group. He portrayed diverse ideas in oil painting, acrylic, water colour, serigraphy, offset printing etc. in cubist style. Politics, history, mythology and cultures were reflected in his art works. In addition to thousands of paintings, posters, murals and printings in an artistic career spanning sixty years, he has also produced three movies. He was honored with National Award, Padmashree, Padma Bhushan and Padma Vibhushan.

Let's Prepare the Project

Prepare and present a picture album, as a follow up activity after finding out paintings by artists of different periods and in different composition methods.

How Bright is the Light

Don't you know that drama is a performing art. The visual of the play is created by the actors and other properties on the stage. Light is important for the visual. The primary and important purpose of light is to create the visual on the stage. Light is used to show and hide the scenes on the stage according to their importance to the audience. Creative lighting is an artistic expression.

Have you played casting shadows on the wall using fingers? Observe the Ideas given below, arrange the classroom and make a presentation either by choosing some of the ideas or using ideas that you come up with.

- Trees swaying in the wind
- Movements of different types of animals
- Workers engaged in building a house

Let's form four groups. Each group may select an idea after discussion. To present the idea, the group members should stand in such a way so that the shadow falls on the classroom wall and two children should light a projector or torch at the back of those who perform. When the shadow falls on the wall, the performance should begin. The performance can be made with or without dialogues and background music.

Shadow and Light

What are the differences lighting arrangements in the pictures given below? Discuss in groups.

- How much is the intensity of light in each picture?
- What are the differences that occur when light falls on the actor's face with the same expression?
- Which direction may have the actor been given the light in each picture?

Can you compose the topics selected earlier for presentation of shadows into short drama presentations of two minute duration? The performance should be in tune with the music. Use the light sources of light available in the classroom, while making the presentation.

- Torch
- Projector
- Sunlight
- Candle light

Provide light for the performance using light sources available at hand. Arrange the group members as needed, to give the light, and make the performance.

Isn't the performance over? Discuss on the basis of the indicators given below.

- Which all light sources give light in the class?
- From which directions the light was available?
- While presenting from which part of the class, were the scenes clear?
- What differences occur in the scenes when moving closer to and further away from the source of light?
- Is it possible to rhythmically infuse light with the presentation?
- Was it possible to make expressions and movements more beautiful using light?
- Were you able to use light to express and hide the vision?

Let's Discuss in Group

Enhance the beauty of the visual by making suitable light arrangements for the performance of drama, enhance the intensity of expressions and scenes of the drama, fix the place, time etc. Complete creating the necessary theatrical atmosphere.

Various types of lights and controllers are used in the theatrical performance for stage lighting. Let's familiarise some its these.
